

79 DISTRICT GUARDS ARE VACCINATED AS CAMP PREPARATION

Militiamen Now Undergoing First Stages of Inoculation Against Typhoid.

ARMORY SCENE OF ACTIVITY

All Officers' Baggage and Camp Supplies Must Be Ready For Shipment Tonight.

Seventy-nine members of the District National Guard today are undergoing the first stages of inoculation against typhoid fever.

The treatment was administered to them last night. They are the first of many hundreds who, Brigadier General Harvey hopes, will voluntarily seek the treatment, as part of the hygienic preparation for the camp at Colonial Beach, which opens next Monday.

"The National Guard surgeons will be at the armory tonight and tomorrow night to inoculate all who desire the treatment," said the general today. "I hope every man will seek it. Ordinarily the treatment would cost each of them $10 or $15, and it is wonderfully efficacious. During the Texas maneuvers of 1912, practically every man had undergone this preventive, and in an encampment of 12,000 men, where there were also 5,000 animals, there were only two cases of the fever. Next year I intend to have in camp only those men who have been vaccinated against typhoid."

Armory Busy Today.
The National Guard armory today is the scene of much bustle and hurrying, as all of the officers' baggage and camp supplies must be ready for shipment by tonight. All camp affairs are reported in good shape.

One of the features of the camp will be instruction in swimming.

"That is one reason why we selected a camp site near the water," said General Harvey today. "We have arranged for swimming periods every day. They will perhaps come sometime when the drill routine is broken—perhaps between 10:30 and 12 o'clock or after 3 o'clock. The companies will be divided into swimmers and non-swimmers, the men who are at home in the water being charged with instructing the novices."

According to General Harvey, the smallest company which will go to camp will number about sixty-five men, and the average number of men to a company unit will be about eighty. There will be plenty of "budding" to do among the members of the Third Regiment, it became known at National Guard headquarters today, on account of the many "rookies" brought into the local militia through the recent reorganization, and the normal influx of new men which comes before every encampment.

Little Battalion Work.
And so the order of the day will be drill, drill, drill for most of them. Special emphasis will be laid upon the school of the soldier, the school of the squad, and the school of the company, and very little battalion work is anticipated.

It was pointed out today that the average national guard, even at the expiration of a full enlistment, has had less instruction than falls to the lot of the regular "rookie," even before he is assigned to duty as a private, which is usually about two months following his entry into the service.

With this in view, a request was made to General Harvey several days ago to ask the War Department for four additional instructor-instructors from the regular army. The request has been placed one of the officers with each battalion in camp.

Lack of mileage for this purpose, however, precluded the granting of the request, and in addition to Capt. Horace P. Hobbs, the regularly assigned instructor, the National Guard, and Adjutant General Foster, there will be but an army officer assigned to the encampment. He will be an officer and the Signal Corps.

Good Water Supply.
From Colonial Beach, where the camp site is to be, come reports that special care is being taken to insure a good water supply.

Brig. Gen. Charles H. Ourand, retired, was the guest of honor last night at an informal dinner given by the Non-Commissioned Officers' Association of the Third Infantry, N. G. D. C., at 922 Pennsylvania avenue.

Among the guests were Major Wallace A. D. Hathaway, George Tait, and Lieut. Le Grand Johnson, E. H. Gerber and E. F. Reese. Others present were members of the Non-Commissioned Officers' Association. Music was furnished by Sergts. Benner and Branson and by Musician Flack, of the Fifth Cavalry.

BOY IS ENGULFED AS BROTHER WATCHES
Victim Slips From Lad's Grasp to Death in Quicksands Just as Help Arrives.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Seymour Berg, twelve, was swallowed in the quicksands of Fresh Creek, one of the inlets of Jamaica Bay, yesterday afternoon, and his brother Harold, two years older, narrowly escaped a similar fate in attempting to rescue him.

The two boys left their home, 655 Georgia avenue, a swim, and went about an hour in the waters of Fresh Creek. Suddenly Seymour called for help, and Harold saw him slowly sinking from sight.

Standing on firm ground he managed to support his brother calling for help. He was heard by two men, but before they could reach the boys Seymour had slipped from his brother's grasp, and even as they looked the quicksands closed over his head.

The older boy was treated for hysteria and shock.

The police from Harbor Squad A found the body of the other boy after digging in the sand to a great depth.

Jaguar Is Newest Idol of Smart Set Here; May Supplant Dog in Milady's Affections

Mrs. Hazel Wilson, of Thomas Circle, Has Little Jungle Pet, From South America.

The South American jaguar is society's next pet. The monkey, the lizard, the chimpanzee and the French poodle all have had their day, and this season this wily little devil of jungle-land bids fair to put them so far in the shade in the smart set's favor that they can't be seen with a field glass.

Mrs. Hazel Wilson, who lives in the Thomas apartments, at Thomas circle, has a jaguar, and if Washington society is greedy for a new craze her penchant for wild animal pets may set an example and the jungle savages may go at a premium next season.

But last you, gentle reader, be of tender sensibility, and tremble at this savage's statement of fact, be assured that the jaguar of this story is as gentle as a cooling dove, and as kittenish and playful as anybody's most petted tabby.

Just a Month Old.
Rudolph, though what's in a name is a month old. He arrived in Washington two weeks ago, and has already found a home with a gentle guardian as attentive to his every want as a guardian can be. His habitat is in the darkest wilds of Brazil, where he was captured by native hunters last month, after a spectacular raid in which his mother was killed.

He came into the possession of a member of the consular service, and was sent to a friend in this city. But everyone isn't as fond of jaguars as is Mrs. Wilson. That's the reason she has Rudolph now.

When a Times reporter penetrated the wilds of Fourteenth street and Thomas circle today in quest of his prey his well-known to a friend in this city.

In the corporation court today in the suit of Rose Mary Powell and husband against Annie Marion Carr and others,

Mrs. Hazel Wilson in characteristic poses with her young jaguar, Rudolph, who may become a craze with Washington society, as did the chameleon and the monkey. Rudolph is straight from the wilds of a Brazilian jungle, but he is entirely tame (just now) and, as you can see, "eats out of your hand."

DISTRICT TO PROBE TAXI OVERCHARGE

Tests To Be Made Without Expense to Those Who File Complaint With Authorities.

Did you ever sit in a taxicab and watch the meter as it counted off the miles and the dollars? And did it ever occur to you that a taximeter is an exceedingly active little instrument?

After September 1, on which date the new regulations for the testing of taximeters will go into effect, a passenger who has reason to believe that the meter is working overtime may notify the Public Utilities Commission. If the commission deems the complaint sufficiently well grounded test will be made without cost to the complainant, and the meter adjusted.

Methods by which the passenger, in the event of an overcharge, will get his money back have not been determined. The commission, it was stated, has not gone into the question of refunds.

The practice of the gas and electric light companies, when overcharge is shown by official test, is to return the money. In the case of the taxicabs, the commission, it was stated, will bring to the attention of the companies a complaint, the justice of which has been verified, with a request to know what it intends to do about it. The probability is, it is said, that the difference will be adjusted without protest. If not the commission may be compelled to take further action.

The regulations as originally drawn provided for a deposit of 50 cents when tests were made upon complaint of a passenger. Upon suggestion of John H. Sherman, superintendent of weights, measures, and markets, it was decided to eliminate the fee. Mr. Sherman, under whose department tests of taximeters were made at one time, having discovered that to compel the payment of a deposit tended to discourage the complainant.

The regulations provide that the meter shall be so located in the taxicab that the driver may be easily reached by the passenger, and that the face of the meter shall be plainly illuminated during the period from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise. It is provided also that no meter shall be placed in service nor allowed to remain in service which is not marked and sealed with the prescribed seal of the commission, and that once every year every meter used or intended to be used shall be submitted to a test by the electrical bureau.

What to Use and Avoid On Faces that Fervid

Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must perspire—must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's waste matter. Certain creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing, especially during the heated period. If more women understood this, there would be fewer self-inflicted complexion troubles. Result: The fresher, younger under-skin is permitted to breathe and show itself. The exfoliate new complexion gradually peeps out, one free from any appearance of artificiality. Obtain an ounce of mercurized wax from your druggist and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream, for a week or two, washing it off mornings.

To remove wrinkles, here's a marvellously effective treatment, which also acts naturally and harmlessly. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered castor oil in 4 pt. water and use as a wash lotion.—Adv.

EFFORTS OF SWEDEN TO JOIN U. S. FAIL

Washington Decides to Act Alone on Protests to Warring Nations.

Although the State Department had little to say today with respect to the failure of efforts on the part of Sweden to bring about co-operation with this Government in making representations to Great Britain on the subject of neutral trade, it is understood that such efforts have come to nothing.

As a matter of fact, since the European war, Sweden has been concerned over the possibility of a cable and this is one of the subjects it has taken up with the State Department. The department, however, indicated that the cable question had been raised sometime ago and not recently.

Sweden, for one thing, wanted identical notes of protest by neutrals to Great Britain. This Government did not favor it. Thin Men and Women DO YOU WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG?

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they lack on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere, which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This preparation is called Sargol, and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food, tends to prepare its fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily accept and carry them to the starved portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional and previously lacking flesh-matter material should bring with your cheeks filling out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappearing and your taking on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Jas. O'Donnell's Drug Stores and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and are authorized to refund your money if weight increase is not obtained as per the guarantee found in each large package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder, and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc. have been reported, it should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.
